The logo features the word "Citadel" in a bold, sans-serif font. The letters are rendered with a 3D effect, appearing as if they are floating or attached to a surface. Behind the text is a circular emblem consisting of two concentric rings, creating a tunnel-like or target-like appearance. The entire design is set against a dark, textured background.

THE CITADEL

1945--

PUBLISHED BY
SENIOR CLASS OF '45
EEL RIVER-PERRY SCHOOL
HUNTERTOWN, INDIANA

Editorial

Time and Tide so, they say, waits for no one. The time is here to put this copy for the Citadel to bed. When early in the school year we decided to publish a Citadel for '45, it seemed that we would have oceans of time to get all the copy and pictures we needed, but that was before we had the experience and realized the work it would take to make a yearbook possible.

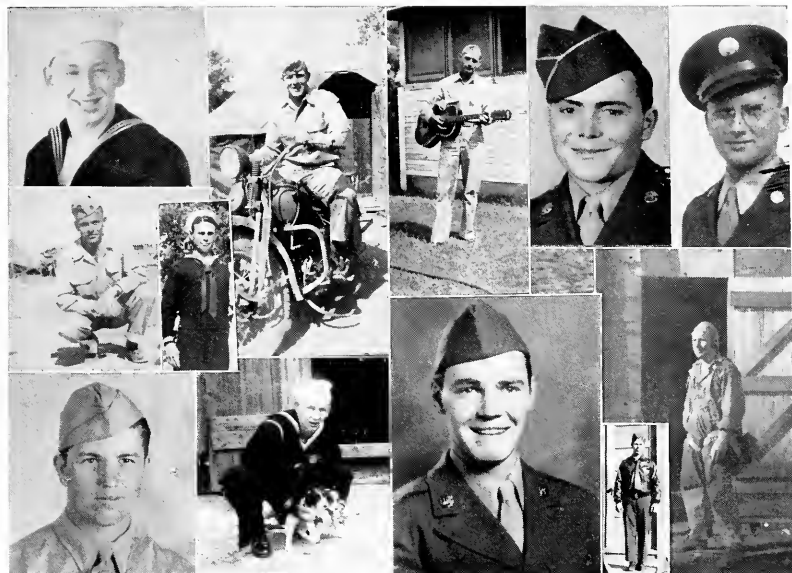

We are not offering any excuses as we are very proud of the result of our efforts, but we do feel that were we to start over we could do better, for editing a yearbook is somewhat like living one's life. We start without experience and learn as we go along, but cannot much change that which has gone before. Then, too, the weather seemed to be against us in getting the pictures. Each time we set a date for the photographer to come Old Man Winter stepped in and cancelled the date. This happened not once, but several times.

We cannot refrain from noting in passing that we live in a land where even amidst all the turmoil in the world, we have been permitted to finish our school and a goodly percentage of our class have been comparatively undisturbed from our normal way of life for all of which we are very thankful.

We would not want to miss thanking Mrs. Kincaid for her untiring efforts to keep us working nor Mr. Henning and all the other members of the faculty for their timely counsel and cooperation in all matters where we were concerned. We also want to thank all our advertisers for their generous support without which all our efforts would have been in vain. When a community shows such implicit faith in a group of young people like us, how can we ever let them down? We thank the photographer and the engraver for their patience in dealing with us. We thank the printer for his splendid cooperation. We, too, would want to thank those few for their opposition and criticism. It has been helpful in that it has made us more determined to forge ahead and be sure of success. Finally we want to thank all the members of the staff who have been so devotedly loyal through thick and thin even when everything seemed almost hopeless.

We hope you will enjoy this Citadel as much as we have enjoyed making it up for you. We feel we have gained an experience we could not have had in any other way.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Serving his second term as president of the Senior class is Morris Bracht. Morris is a very competent person and carries on his work very efficiently. Assisting him are persons equally competent of filling their positions. They are Lorraine Price, vice-president; Dolores Soule, secretary; Barbara Huber, treasurer.

HONOR STUDENTS

Robert Bleke, valedictorian, is a fine example of what Huntertown school can produce as he has spent the entire twelve years of school life here.

Alice Porter, salutatorian, started her schooling in Craigville, Indiana; attended Fort Wayne and St. Joseph Central grade Schools and came here from Leo as a sophomore.

Alice Porter

Robert Bleke

SPONSOR

We, the senior class, could never in this small space thank Mr. Henning for the great kindness he did us in accepting our humble request that he be our sponsor for the year of '45. At times it may have seemed that he was being a little "stiff" with us but as we look back over these incidents now and in later years we can see where he was in the right and we were in the wrong.

Thanking you again,

The Senior Class

Class Prophecy

The veil of the future is lifted and we look into the year 1970. Our happy little group has just reached the famous city of Hunteertown, Indiana. Being the largest city in the world, its population at present is 92,638,423.260.

The main attraction is the mammoth Gala Theatre which is owned by the famous Richard Maloney and managed by James Sprunger. As we come closer we see in blinding lights the names of two of our former classmates—Margaret Seidel and Charles Green. They are co-starred in a new picture—"Ours is a Gruesome Love."

We enter and find a sight more magnificent than words could ever express. Everything is done in pure gold that was donated by the multimillionaire, Jack Stone. He is now enjoying himself as a peaceful bachelor because he decided women want too much money.

We sit through the first part of the double feature and enjoy many a hearty laugh. Last but not least we are thrilled to the utmost by the ballet dancing team—Lowell Gaskell and his fiancée, Mary Ray. After struggling many long hours they finally made the stage.

Coming out into the fresh air we smell the delicious aroma of hamburger and onions. We come upon a little restaurant owned and operated by Barbara Huber.

Traveling deeper into the heart of the city we find a large music and animal museum belonging to Robert Bleke. He found it was no use trying to amuse an audience from the stage so he takes it out on the laughing hyena.

The city park is one of our many attractions and at the entrance we find our guide is Roderick Johnson. He leads us into an ultra-modern zoo and there with 100-foot cobras all around her is Jean Malcolm. It seems the eternal triangle still exists for we find Hubert Hess and Don Pontius both anxiously awaiting her decision on who she will go to dinner with.

In the distance church bells are heard and coming closer we see a beautiful white church of which the most Reverend Glenn Ott is pastor. He has just performed the marriage ceremony for Willis Messman and Betty Russell. Willis has received the old-age pension and now decides that he is financially able to support a wife and family.

A little further on is Mardell Smith's beauty salon. She is running a neat little business and we see she is just giving her latest flame, Gerald Amstutz, a bright red pedicure. Now he doesn't have to do it himself.

Our next stop is at a maternity hospital where we see Keith Johnson and Elvin Gump nervously, but patiently waiting to see what the results of a visit of their wives, Catherine Pepple, and Alice Porter to the delivery room will be.

The high school is next on our list to be attended. It is changed almost completely. We find in the office as principal Morris Bracht. He has changed in the way of several deep wrinkles and also a few gray hairs. We visit some of the classrooms and find the Red Cross Nurse, Erma Kikley, administering first aid to one of Gene Hadley and Doris Huber's triplets. The boys were fighting over which of them could play basketball like the "old man."

Time is slowly passing by and we continue our trip through the city. We are startled by a loud roaring noise and see a cloud of dust in the distance. It is the sheriff, Gaylord Warner, and his wife, Violet Buchanan, on their motorcycle chasing a bandit who just escaped from the state prison. Violet always goes along because she enjoys motorcycles immensely.

Bette Moss and George Troxell are running a singing and ventriloquism school. Although their tactics are rather rusty, they manage to support a family of 19 dummies.

We have had an invitation from the Mayor, Max Waterson and his wife, the former Ruthe Warner, and the four little Watersons, to enjoy dinner with them at the Waterson mansion. We are amazed to see as their maids Dolores Soule and Elnora Miller, the two old maids of the graduating class.

Lorraine Price and Max Gross own and operate the "Silver Moon" skating rink, which is always crowded to see the two go through the thrilling performance every night. This is the only way Lorraine manages to keep her school-girl figure.

The court house is yet to be visited and who should we find on the stand, but Harold Freeman confessing the murder of Helen Brown because he was jealous of her engagement to Sgt. Francis Till. As judge we are surprised to see no other than Paul T. Henning, whom we remember as our leader way back in '45.

We are shocked to see going down the street behind a baby carriage Bob Widner. He is now a nursemaid by trade (changing included) and is trying to get Lucille Hoepfner and Roland Leininger's two sets of twins to sleep so that he can play one more game of poker before the day ends.

Night is slowly but surely coming on and all are completely exhausted, when who should we come upon, but Harold Andrews, who persuades us to spend the night at his hotel. Harold is now a great hypnotist and he puts us to sleep by his magical powers. Slowly our eyes droop and our heads nod. A deep slumber envelops us and pleasant dreams surround us, but this does not last for the trance gradually wears off. All of a sudden we are awakened by a strange noise, but as our memory comes back we are again at good old H.H.S. and the bell has just rung for the next period class to begin.

Class Will

We, the 1945 Graduating Class, Huntertown High School, town of Huntertown, state of Indiana, by last will and testament give over to our underclassmen some of our favorite possessions and responsibilities.

ARTICLE I

This will was approved, signed, and sealed on this 18th day of April, 1945. If there are any hard feeling to those in the underclasses, who receive these things, please do not bring suit against us for they are now your possessions and responsibilities.

I, Violet Buchanan, will my love for motorcycle riding to all scared underclassmen.

I, Harold Freeman, do hereby will my Government book to William Lutter.

I, Lowell Gaskill, do hereby will my superhuman strength to the one and only—Walter Lee Freeman.

I, Charles Green, will my enormous height to Bruce McComb

I, Max Gross, will my love for Huntertown to first graders.

I, Elvin Gump, will my bashfulness to Gene Rennecker.

I, Gene Hadley, will my ability to get to class late to Bob Gordon.

I, Hubert Hess, hereby will my brother, Howard, to Joyce Branning.

I, Barbara Huber, will and bequeath my love for the Marine Corps to Rosemary Minton.

I, Doris Huber, hereby will my typing ability to Gene Moss.

I, Keith Johnson, will my technique in Busco to George Arnold.

I, Roderick Johnson, bequeath my ability to get into mischief to "Hawkie."

I, Erma Kikly, will my quiet manner to Barbara Searfoss.

I, Roland Leininger, will my sleepy attitude to my dear cousin, Bob.

I, Jean Malcolm, will my love for a certain Leo by to Norma Fox.

I, Dick Maloney, will my wavy hair to Richard Pepe.

I, Elnora Miller, will my giggle to Bob Richey.

I, Bette Moss, hereby will my ability to stutter to anyone who hasn't, as yet, learned the art.

I, Glenn Ott, will ALL my time to a certain freshman cutie in Wallen.

I, Catherine Pepple, will my love for poetry to Richard Yearling.

I, Alice Porter, hereby will and bequeath my position as Editor-in-Chief of the Citadel to anyone who may need it in the coming year.

I, Lorraine Price, hereby will my ability to drive within the speed limit to Jack "Bone" Grim. (He needs it.)

I, Mary Ray, will my love for political arguments and Republican candidates to Darlene Butts.

I, Betty Russell, hereby will my "Gift of Gab" to Elizabeth Wise.

I, Dolores Soule, will my ability to gain weight to Lloyd Gump.

I, Margaret Seidel, will my tallness to the Siamese twins, Helen Gump and Lois Caley.

I, Mardell Smith, will my love for a certain red head to Pauline Pulver.

I, James Sprunger, will my way with the women to Gerald Fox.

I, Jack Stone, do hereby will my ability for blowing up things in chemistry to Joe Huber.

I, Gaylord Warner, will and bequeath my curly hair to "Whitey" Warner.

I, Ruthe Warner, hereby will and bequeath my devoted love to sit in class and dream to Jean Ann Campbell.

Class History

We the class of '45 began our school career in 1933 with 37 students and Miss Schwartz as our director. The year quickly passed and we found ourselves at desks in Miss Loveless's room. Prizes were given every week in the second grade to the best writers and spellers. The writing contests proved to be exciting but the real thrill didn't come until Miss Bleke taught us to write with pen and ink in the third grade.

As we started our elementary grades the enrollment increased to 56 which was too large a class for one room so we were divided into two rooms, Miss McComb and Miss Bear as our teachers. Miss Bear's class spent the first six weeks of school in the old gym until the new part of the school was completed. Mrs. Potter and Mr. Gump again divided our class in the fifth grade, but nevertheless we still enjoyed our jello parties and weekly programs. Mrs. Otto taught part of us in the sixth grade while some of us had Mr. Gump again for the second year. It was in the summer of 1939 that Harold Sordelet, a member of our class lost his life in the St. Joe River.

Sixty-one of us entered junior high school feeling mighty important with Mr. Sible as our class sponsor, and Gay Warner as president. The class parties proved to be exciting. With Mrs. Malcolm as our eighth grade sponsor and Morris Bracht as our president we had a happy year, and the climax came when we realized we were leaving the grades at the Shrine Auditorium on graduation day.

The romances started rolling as we enter high school. The enrollment again increased to seventy in our freshman year. Miss Hershey and Mr. Bosler were our sponsors and Jack Stone, Gaylord Warner, Roedean Veazey and Violet Buchanan were elected class officers. The barn dance and chili supper at Seidel's seemed to be an outstanding event.

In '42 as we entered school as silly sophomores we found Mr. Smith and Miss Whitacre as our sponsors and Roland Leininger, Gaylord Warner and Betty Russell our class officers. Lorraine Price was again elected queen of the class. Class parties were held at the Center School House and at Tonkels.

We find the enrollment decreasing as we reach the 11th grade with 49 members left in the class. Mr. Fryback and Mrs. Parrish were elected sponsors while Morris Bracht, Gene Hadley, Roland Leininger and Betty Russell were elected class officers. A wiener roast at Isaac Walton's was most amusing but the freshman party also seemed to hold some excitement for us juniors. To raise the capital in our treasurer we opened the canteen in the old school house, sold ice cream bars, candy, popcorn and potato chips during games and presented the four-act play, "Seventeen". Memories of the Jr. and Sr. Banquet which was held at the school will always rank high.

As 40 of us enter school for the 12th year we find some of our classmates in other parts of the country serving Uncle Sam's forces and others are working and some are even married. Mr. Henning was elected class sponsor and Morris Bracht, Lorraine Price, Dolores Soule, and Barbara Huber were elected class officers. A chili supper followed by a theater party was one of the many activities. A visit to court, picture day, the ordering of name cards, caps and gowns, senior day, etc. All seemed to hold excitement.

We, the class of '45 are now completing our school term and taking with us the pride of graduating from Huntertown High School.

Row 2—Richard Pepe, Lloyd Gump.

Starting the year off with a bang the juniors elected Lloyd Gump, president of their class. Now do you see what we mean by saying they "started the year off with a bang." To help him along with all the great difficulties of the term they elected Richard Pepe, vice-president; Jean Ann Campbell, secretary; Darlene Butt, treasurer.

SOPHOMORES

Wayne Surface, Wayne Waters, Russell Sordelet, Robert Frazier.

Leading the businesses of the sophomore class we find Bobby Frazier that little blonde whose hobby is—girls. Assisting him are some boys who also take an interest in this hobby. Russell Sordelet, vice-president; Wayne Surface, secretary; Wayne Waters, treasurer.

FRESHMEN

Sue McLane, Robert Hadley, Jack Bleekman, Jim Buchanan.

Who says transfer students don't pitch right in. Suzy McLane seems to be doing all right as president of the freshman class. Other offices are filled by James Buchanan, vice-president; Jack Blekeman, secretary; Robert Hadley, treasurer.

CITADEL STAFF

The class of '45 was fortunate in being able to publish a yearbook since none had been compiled in the two previous years.

Immediately meetings were held, appointments were made and the name Citadel was chosen for the yearbook. The advertising committee roamed the countryside soliciting all the wonderful business folks for the advertisements. Then the big subscription drive got under way, and the students showed their enthusiasm for the new project. Along in November the Seniors started worrying about how they would look on film. So after a little red tape they journeyed to Leone's in Fort Wayne, had their portraits made, and signed a contract for taking shots of the other students. Snow drifts and poor attendance slowed this process up somewhat but everyone was happy and washed their faces when the big day finally came. The literature and photographs were then sent to the printers and this is it.

Now meet the staff of the Citadel as appointed by Mrs. Kincaid. First there's Alice Porter, editor-in-chief, and really in there boosting all the while. Robert Bleke, assistant editor came next and worked with the editor in promoting the Citadel. Morris Bracht, business manager, and Jack Stone, his assistant, tackled the financial problems with speed and accuracy. Dolores Soule, Lorraine Price, Catherine Pepple, Ruth Warner and Margaret Seidel, members of the literary board ably handled the written material. Mary Ray, publicity manager was in charge of all publicity for the annual. Max Waterson, Helen Brown and Gene Hadley were the photographers responsible for scaring the wits out of people by flashing their cameras at just the right moment. Giving us a bird's-eye view of the sports world at good old H.H.S. was Gaylord Warner, Gerald Amstrutz and Elvin Gump. Mardell Smith, Jean Malcolm, Roland Leininger, Keith Johnson and Roderick Johnson, members of the advertising committee, helped in boosting our advertising. Doris Huber, Violet Buchanan, and Elnora Miller served as manager over the typists. Barbara Huber, manager of the circulation department was assisted by Glenn Ott, Arlene Russell and Harold Freeman. They sold subscriptions and attended to the circulation of the Citadel. Last but certainly not least our splendid supervisor, Mrs. Kincaid.

ROW ONE: Left to right—Mary Ray, Betty Moss, Violet Buchanan, Miss Grenawalt, Sponsor, Alice Porter, Dolores Soule, Betty Russell, Jean Malcolm.

ROW TWO—Keith Johnson, Hubert Hess, Max Gross, Glenn Ott, Jack Stone, James Sprunger, Dick Maloney, Gene Hadley.

THE BLACK AND GOLD FLASH

Keeping everyone posted on the latest news and activities of the school year is the Black and Gold Flash, which is published monthly by the journalism class. With little experience, but much enthusiasm the thirteen lucky students started the Flash on its way.

The Flash is successor of the Reflector, which folded up under the paper shortage three years ago.

Proofreading, correcting and urging on this small staff is Miss Greenawalt, their noble instructor.

Associated editors of the Flash are Bette Moss and Jack Stone. Their duties are to see that stories are typed, counted and prepared on the dummy along with the advertising. Digging up the gossip and writing other feature stories were the feature writers, Jean Malcolm and Alice Porter. Gene Hadley and Glen Ott help keep everyone posted on the recreational side of school life by writing the Sport Scope. Hubert Hess took over Glen's job the second semester after Glen left the class. Other reporters on the staff include

Betty Russell, James Sprunger, Violet Buchanan, Mary Ray, Dick Maloney and Keith Johnson. The circulation list was handled by Max Gross and Dolores Soule.

The Flash is exchanged with seven other schools and copies are sent out each month to advertisers besides those copies which are given to the 220 subscribers.

Printing for the Black and Gold Flash is done at the Truth Printing Company in Churubusco, which is an advantage over the mimeographed papers.

The subscription rate for the paper is thirty cents a semester or ten cents a single copy. Many people subscribed for the paper and sent them to boys in the service.

Thirteen seemed to be a lucky number for the staff for there was never more than that amount in the class at one time.

Besides publishing the paper the class last semester sent mimeographed news letters to boys in service who had attended Hometown High School.

Absent—Maxine Houser, Velma Bunn, Max Waterson.

Director—Walter Sloffer.

The sonorous tones that float to part of the building every day during the second period are a result of many students "tootin' their own horns."

Remember how well Morris Bracht interpreted "The Old Hunter"—and those shots! Wouldn't it be great if we could all play our horns like Mr. Pressler plays his trombone.

Max Waterson went to the army shortly after the beginning of the second semester. We miss him; he is okay.

During many of the home basketball games the would-be Kruppas, Jameses, and Dorseys put rhythm in the teams with such numbers as "It Had to Be You" and "Is You Is or Is You Ain't" as well as many snappy marches.

Contest time isn't far off, so let's get to our diet of rhythms and rests.

Drum Majorettes

Norma Fox, Peggie Hefty, Diane Amstutz,
Pauline Pulver

Huntertown had two drum majorettes and two flag twirlers this year who helped the band supply entertainment for various school activities. The flag twirlers, Norma Fox and Pauline Pulver wore white blouses and gold skirts and the drum majorettes, Diane Amstutz and Peggy Hefty wore white blouses with black skirts. All four girls wore white majorette boots. Norma and Pauline are juniors this year while Peggy is a freshman. Diane, the youngest of the girls is only in the eighth grade. The girls were very capable of their positions and are expected to be back next year.

Junior Band

The junior band has seven members. They have high hopes of being advanced to the senior band in the near future. Their director is Mr. Sloffer.

FIRST ROW — Gwendolyn Simon, Janet Dunten, Janice Richardson, Pat Moore.

SECOND ROW—Lowell Dicks, Richard Gordon, George Till.

Senior Band

Mardell Smith, Ruth Warner, Helen Brown, Lorraine Price, Harold Andrews, Robert Bleke, Gaylord Warner, Morris Bracht.

Cast

The class of '46 presented "New Fires" as their junior play on Dec. 16 and 17, 1944. At the left is pictured the entire cast. They are left to right, Richard Horstmeyer, Gene Moss, Marjorie Smith, Jean Davis, Bruce McComb; (second row) George Arnold, Darlene Butt, Luella Bloom; (third row) Bill Rhonemus, Barbara VanAnda, Donald Genth; (fourth row) Lorraine Opliger, Phyllis Smith, Miss Enley; (fifth row) Mary Ann Keener, and Richard Pepe.

Presentation

COACH BRANDYBERRY

Coach

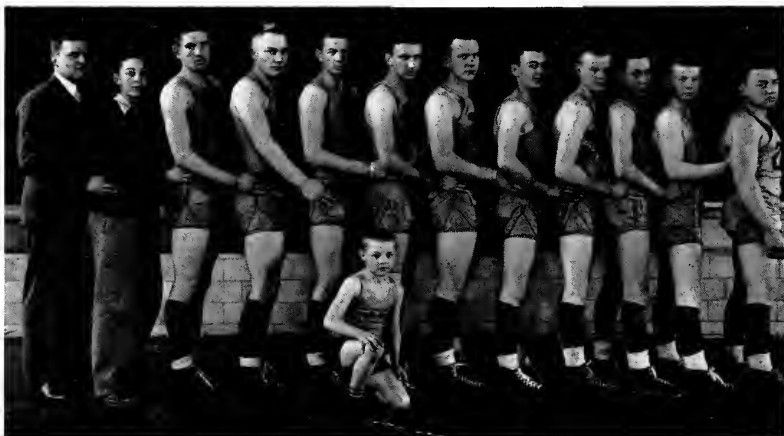

Huntertown has gone through the basketball season with a better than average record under the new coach Howard Brandyberry. Brandyberry came from Monroe where he went to high school and played on the team. He went to college then returned to Monroe to coach grade school for seven years. He was inducted into the Army for nineteen months then was given a medical discharge. Since his discharge he has coached the Wildcats to a fine season of 11 wins and 6 losses.

Softball Team

The softball team won two out of six games this season. The players were (reading from right to left): Jack Walcutt, mascot, Brandyberry, Arnold, G. Warner, Richey, Hadley, L. Gump. The second row: Richard Horstmeyer, student manager, Elvin Amstutz, Ott, Yearling, Smith, M. Warner.

Yell Leaders

The cheering section has been led this year by Norma Fox, Pauline Pulver, and Jean Campbell. They have done a fine job. They have been to every game and have cheered the Wildcats with many new yells. Jean Campbell has been yell leader for two years previous to this, but this is the first for Norma and Pauline.

Hungry Five

Office Girls

There are seven office girls, one for each period of the day. They are left to right: Marjorie Smith, Darlene Butt, Leona Hatch, Lorraine Price, Jean Davis, Barbara Huber, and Barbara Van Anda.

Janitors

Our loyal janitors are Sidney Dunton and Lester Borne, both of Hometown, Indiana.

Sidney Dunton (at left) has been with us not quite three years and has general care of the building.

Lester Borne (at right) fires the furnace and also does odd jobs and has been here two years.

These two and together with the help of some others keep the building as tidy and clean as can be expected.

Cooks

ROW ONE: Left to right: Berniece Dunton, Thelma Knop, Edna Malcolm.

ROW TWO — Gladys Simon, Rena Dunton.

Bus Drivers

The bus drivers are the men who so faithfully rise early every morning and bring the country boys and girls to school. It is also their duty when school is dismissed to return them to their homes.

The garageman is George Fogel who services the busses and helps to keep them clean.

 ROW TWO—Mardell Smith, Violet Buchanan, Mary Ray, Harold Freeman, Barbara Huber, Elnora Miller, Ruth Warner.

SENIOR PLAY

"Growing Pains" was presented April 5 and 6 by the senior class. The play concerns the comic struggles of an adolescent boy and girl and their desire for the approval of the opposite sex. Their father and mother see their problems from afar and attempt to give advice to the egocentric youths.

The stage crew had a chance to expend real skill and hard work in constructing the set, a patio in northern California.

Miss Enley chose the cast as follows: Mrs. McIntyre, mother, Catherine Pepple; Professor McIntyre, father, Jack Stone; George McIntyre, son, James Sprunger; Terry McIntyre, tomboy, Lorraine Price; Sophie, the maid, Mary Ray, and many others (above pictured) assisted in putting this play "over the top."

Committees for the play were as follows: stage crew, Gene Hadley, Dick Maloney, Glenn Ott, Keith Johnson, Roderick Johnson, Roland Leining, Robert Bleke and Jack Stone; prompter, Helen Brown; make-up, Delores Coule, Margaret Seidel; advertising and publicity Alice Porter, Erma Kickley, Violet Buchanan; stage manager Robert Bleke, ushers, Erma Kickley, Helen Brown, Doris Huber and Violet Buchanan.

Miss Enley was our very able and helpful director. To her we owe the success of both our junior play and our senior play. We can only hope she too received some small bit of enjoyment. We hope she may direct many more successful plays in the future. To you Miss Enley we can only say, "Thanks for everything."

Class Will

I, Max Waterson, do hereby will my Remington noiseless typewriter along with my "41" Plymouth to one certain junior girl. (M.J.S.)

I, Robert Widner, hereby will and bequeath my classroom meanness to Richard Moore. (Not that he needs it.)

ARTICLE III

We, the Senior Class, do hereby dedicate Article III to our faculty members and underclassmen.

To Mrs. Kincaid, we will our love for the Junior boys.

To Miss Enley, we will all our old English and Latin books.

To Mrs. Dubsky, we will our recipes for happiness.

To Miss Dill, we will all our brushes, paints, chalk, pens, pencils and colors.

To Miss Harrod, we will our singing ability.

To Mr. Sloffer, we will our good looks. (Not that he needs them).

To Mr. Fryback, we will the success we gained as Juniors.

To Mrs. Klingler, we will our love for outdoor life.

To Miss Greenawalt, we will our good spelling ability.

To Coach Brandeberry, we will our love for sports.

To Mr. Palmer, we will and bequeath the fourth dimension.

To Mr. Henning, we will our low test grades and our ability to draw maps.

To the seventh grade we the Senior Class will the lockers in the assembly.

To the eighth grade we will good luck in their high school career.

To the Freshmen we will our ability to become Seniors.

To the Sophomores, we will our ability to give class plays.

To the Junior, we will our ability to publish a school paper and yearbook.
